

Hope for a World

All I hope for is a world full of fun

A world made for more than one

All I hope for is a world of peace and love

A world where everyone works hard enough

A world of joy

A world of acceptance

A world where everyone can be anyone, no matter how they look, feel, or identify

A world where everyone feels free to say, "I love me"

All I hope for is a world with tons of trees, with lots of buzzing bees

All I hope for is a world where everything's fair

A world where everybody cares

All I hope for is a world made for everyone

I am hopeful for all these things because our world is not perfect yet,
But I know we can try to make all these hopes that are so close to my heart fit.
